"Green and White is our color."

Foreword

We have reached a strange point in our lives, a confusing point. On the doorstep of new horizons, we cling desperately to the tried, familiar things. Living in a perplexing world, we grasp for ideals to cling to, standards by which we live.

We think that we have found a path to follow, a light to lead us. In the days of King Arthur, ideals were high, clear, and simple. The accomplishing of good was the accepted "raison d'être." In our PORTAL, we hark back to those ordered days; we recall the chivalrous knights, the fair ladies in distress. What was beautiful and good in that era, we have taken for our use. We can only hope that this comparison adequately expresses our innermost longings and desires.

The PORTAL, in addition to its service as a witness to our ideals, is a memorial to the four years that we, the class of 1957, have spent together at Weaver. In it we have tried to inject some of the warmth, the companionship, and the closeness which have been ingrained parts of this class. This yearbook is attempting to do a lot. It must recapture the past; it must point the way to the future. It is our wish that this book may serve as a beacon in the future to the members of the class of 1957.

Weaver 85, Central 73 (overtime) New England Champs!

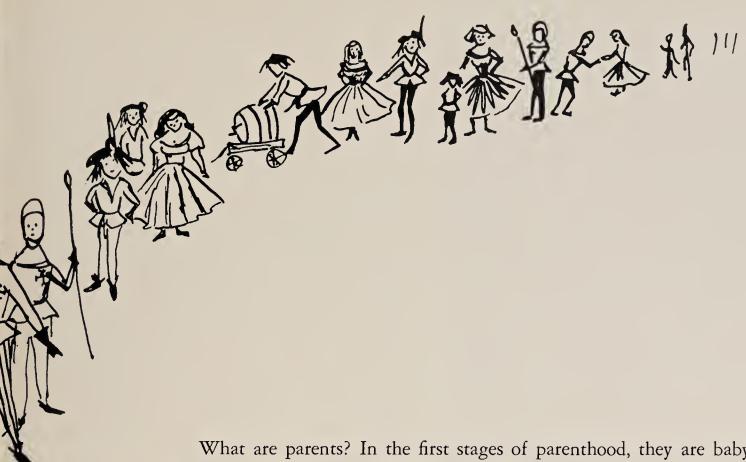

How did HE sneak in?

DEDICATION

What are parents? In the first stages of parenthood, they are baby feeders and lullaby singers. When their young ones enter grammar school, parents turn from babysitting to helping with multiplication tables, spelling words, and the new chapter in Alice and Jerry. As high school enters their life, they are again called upon to solve algebra problems, to translate Latin, to surrender the car for that big dance, or to help select the first formal gown.

In an emergency they are delivering newspapers, driving to get their offspring when no other transportation is available, and always close by when they are needed the most.

Parents possess such miraculous traits as scolding their child one minute and praising him the next; insisting they don't worry about him and then staying up until he is home from his date; anticipating the time when he will be grown up and then becoming terribly lonesome when his childhood has disappeared.

Parents have the ability of building up morale when it is at its lowest, conveying a feeling of safety and security when there is no one else to offer protection, making their child feel necessary and wanted when he is rejected by others.

Because parents do all these things and because they represent, above all, love, inspiration, and understanding, we, the class of 1957, with hearts and minds fully appreciative of their devotion, gratefully dedicate this classbook to our most beloved and precious possessions — our parents.

MR. WILLIAM F. AITKEN

As did knights long ago, we, too, look to our leader as one representing the highest example of dignity and integrity. Principal William Aitken is this man.

We have come to know Mr. Aitken as a man devoted to Weaver, its students, and its organizations. The atmosphere of friendliness which surrounds him envelops all who come in contact with him. His warm smile tells us that we may speak freely and frankly with this man who is truly interested in our welfare.

With mixed emotions we say farewell to Mr. Aitken. Although each of us will miss him in a different way, we will always bear in our hearts the impression of this inspiring man. No matter what our tasks in life may be, we will all strive to follow our leader's fine example.

Thanks to you, Mr. Aitken, for everything, and may God's blessing continue to shine on you.

STUDENT COUNCIL

MR. EZRA MELROSE

During our years at Weaver, Mr. Ezra Melrose has truly been a friend to all. His warm words of encouragement and his incessant willingness to advise a Weaverite can never be forgotten. King Arthur's "right hand man" can be found at Weaver at almost any hour of the day, either arranging activities, assisting coaches, writing college recommendations, or offering fatherly advice to a perplexed student.

As faculty advisor of the Boys' Club, Mr. Melrose has proved himself a tireless worker in promoting that organization to its present prominent position. All of us in the Senior Class congratulate him on a job well done and wish him the best of luck in the future.

BOYS' CLUB EXECUTIVE BOARD

Standing: Goldberg, Tinsley, Weisman, Countryman, Thomas, Mr. Melrose.

MISS ANITA K. ROCHE

Warm geniality, friendly encouragements, restless drive, and extreme capability - all characteristics of our Dean of Girls, Miss Anita Roche . . . She offers a guiding hand to those needing assistance . . . Many have found a true friend in her when confronted by a problem . . . Has untiring devotion for Weaver and its students . . . Her graciousness and sincerity have placed her in the faculty's and students' highest esteem . . . Maintains a constant interest in school activities, clubs, and social affairs . . . Those who have worked with the Student Council or the Girls' League can better understand Miss Roche's devotion to the two groups . . . Through her efforts, many have been inspired to greater school interest . . . This class will be forever grateful for the wonderful opportunities she has made possible, and a place in our heart will always be reserved for Miss Roche.

GIRLS' LEAGUE EXECUTIVE BOARD

Weaver High School

Weaver High School . . . A man's home is his castle, and Weaver, our home away from home for four years, has indeed been our Castle.

Within these grounds has been centered all of our court life: all of our activities, all of our interests, all of our studies. Knights and Ladies, view your castle and remember . . .

Remember that a spirit inhabits this beautifully designed castle, giving life to the empty halls and classrooms. It is that spirit which turns the massive architecture into a warm and friendly home. It is the spirit of Weaver which we have taken possession of, which we have strengthened and enlarged, and which we now leave to the future.

Remember that some of that spirit leaves with us. Though each of us takes a part of it as his own souvenir, the supply is never exhausted. And, whenever we return to Weaver, whether in mind or in body; whenever we see Weaver, in imagination or in reality, we shall remember.

That spirit which is within us will then join with the spirit ever present within these doors. Our lives will be complete once more, filled with the thoughts of our wonderful days in Weaver High School, our Castle of Memory and our Tower of Strength.

FOOTBALL-1956

Although compiling a non-impressive won and lost record, the Big Green succeeded in dumping Hartford High for the first time since 1948. Rough breaks and hard luck at the start of the season led the Beavers to defeat by some very close margins. The victory over Norwich was followed by the type of games which characterized the beginning of the year.

However, on Thanksgiving Day the Beidlermen let loose all their pent up power and fight, and put the Owls to flight. Led by the defensive maneuvering of co-captains Dom DiCicco and Rich Druckman, and the shifty and speedy Andy Holiday, the Green Knights of the Gridiron became heroes over night.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Although the Weaver cross-country team compiled an unimpressive 1-5 record in dual meet competition, nevertheless, the Harriers were not as bad as their record might indicate. Since the only returning lettermen were co-captains Bob Grey and Dave Murray, along with veteran Richard Mantano, Coach Ted Wilson had to rely heavily on new-comers to the squad. The team's best runner this past season was, by far, co-captain-elect Richard Cabral, who led the entire Beaver array in six out of ten meets. Joseph Seay and Wayne Belske paced the Wilsonmen in the four remaining contests. Other consistent performers throughout the season were Wally Jackson, Joe Miller, Bob Grey, and Rich Orluk.

Once again the future of the cross-country team looks bright indeed. Coach Wilson has expectations that next year's squad, led by co-captains-elect Dick Cabral and Wayne Belske, will not only be tops in the area, but also one of the best in the state!

TRACK

Led by three state champion performers, the Weaver High track team has come through very successfully in the past few seasons. Although overshadowed by the feats of the hoop and football teams, the Beavers have finished third in the state meet in 1955 and '56:

Turner Cox has broken records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, while Andy Holiday has been smashing high jump marks in addition to sprinting well. Winner of the state pole-vaulting crown last year was Lenny Wallace. In addition Carl Littman has proved himself a strong contender in the 440 yard dash and the broad jump. Other Green veterans are Dom DiCicco, Ivan Hester, and Bob Grey.

The track team has made great strides in the past few years, and the awakening interest in the sport is making it more popular.

1956-1957 BASKETBALL TEAM

"To the victors belong the spoils" is a phrase which in a few words sums up the 1956-1957 Weaver basketball season. Under the tutelage of Coach Charley Horvath, the remarkable Beaver hoopsters created a grand slam in winning the City, CDC, State, and New England Titles without a loss. In so doing, Weaver established a phenomenal 24-0 record.

With the starting five of Bob Countryman, John Egan, John Sullivan, Ted McBride, and Russ Carter showing its adherents blinding speed, deft ball handling, and tremendous shooting ability, Weaver roared through its regular seventeen game schedule unscratched.

After rolling to easy victories in their first four encounters, the Horvathmen met an inspired New Britain club. Losing by eight points at the end of the half, the Green and White erupted to bury the Hurricanes, 62-53. Weaver won the game without much service from Egan, who sat most of the game out on the bench with 4 personal fouls.

A few weeks later, it was up to Egan to keep his mates undefeated as he scored 27 points in leading Weaver to a hard earned 55-50 victory over an upset-minded Bulkeley team. Against Norwich Free Academy, the Beavers exploded for 85 points, two shy of the school record, as against Norwich's 60.

Weaver was ranked first in the State Tourney, the only undefeated team in the post-season event. In its first tournament encounter, Weaver had to play on a wet floor in downing Hamden 60-40. The Green and White drew Wilbur Cross in the quarter-final round and found their opponents to be a pesky, fast club; Weaver managed to pull away in the final quarter to win 68-60. The Beavers reached the finals by downing Harding of Bridgeport 73-64.

CLASS HIGHLIGHTS

Many of us entered Weaver, our castle, as freshmen, pages, starting the climb to Knighthood. Since our arrival marked the first time in many years for a freshman class at Weaver, many members were added to the faculty, including some who came with us from Jones.

The Ladies at Weaver welcomed our girls at a "Get Acquainted Party." Weaver life went into full swing . . . in November, our turkey was spoiled with Weaver's loss to HPHS . . . And that December . . . for many that once in a lifetime "first formal" — "A Christmas Dream" . . .

Some of us lowly pages were recognized: Peggy Dryburg, Pat Katz, Linda Altman, Sharna Chernoff, Sheldon Hoffman took part in our first Weaver Night . . . Freshmen of the Month were Joel Weisman and Joanne Gitlin (at least somebody knew freshmen exist!); Arlene Kadish modeled at the Inter-High Fashion Show; *Lookout-*editors-to-be Deanne Cohn, Ed DuBrow, Hank Berman, Elaine Katz, and Linda Sack were admitted as cub reporters.

Just the beginning — the Fabulous Five became Hartford's first State Champs . . . We went to Boston — and Miss Bailey's Honors English classes went again — bringing Johnny Tremain to life.

We were proud of Fred Freiberger and Marty Huey for winning grants at the Science Fair; Steve Lerman, for showing his chess skill; and Ed DuBrow and Barry Kramer, for being selected for a "Mind Your Manners Panel"...

Finally, the girls got to swoon at a real "Knight in Shining Armor" — singer Eddie Fisher appeared at the State Theater . . . and June was here.

Our ranks were swelled by the addition of the Northeast contingent, and now our class became a complete unit, and we were Sophomores.

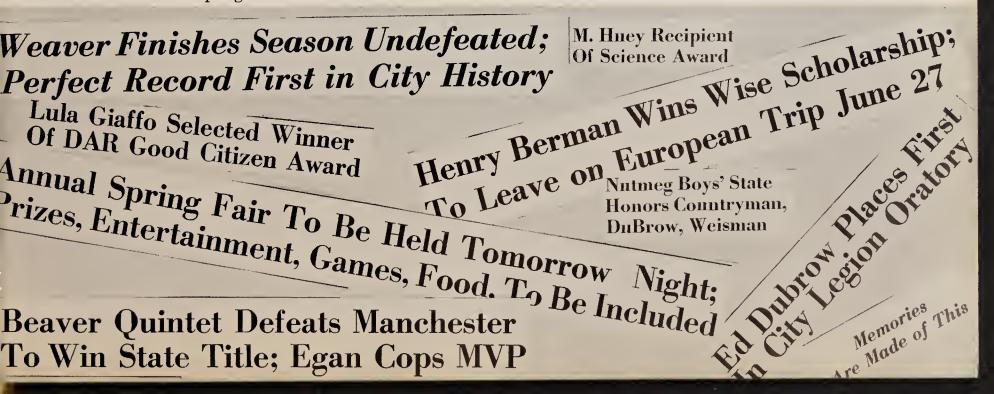

We welcomed new teachers, too, especially Miss Yashima, exchange teacher from Hawaii. As Thirds, we participated actively at WHS: voting in the J.C.C. election, (our own Bruce Barton was elected), contributing pennies to help rebuild the Boston Steeple, and joining with the Girls' League to celebrate Mr. Aitken's birthday.

Two of our outstanding musicians, Arlene Missan and Sharna Chernoff, were selected for All-State Festival. The Lookout recognized Dick Druckman and Marie Tine, Steve Weitzman, and Freddy Bonazelli as Sophomores of the Month.

Another Turkey Day Dinner ruined . . . Old pros at formals now, we attended the "Winter Whirl" . . . Soon after, said a fond goodbye to Coach Sandall.

Steve Goldberg delighted all as M.C. in "It's for the Birds"... More previews of coming events as Ed DuBrow won the City American Legion Oratorical Contest, and Deanne Cohn's TB editorial won a National Award; Pat Katz starred in "Thursday Murderers"; John Egan played for varsity...

Miss Hartin's classes saw their essays in print in the National Anthology. Dressed as Romans, Latin enthusiasts attended the Banquet, and all of us participated in the first Spring Fair . . .

Our lives became eventful now, some of us earning our crests. Roberta Shuler was elected Jr. Red Cross head, Bob Grey, JCL president, and Pat Katz, Marie Tine, Carol Reardon, Freddy Bonazelli, Vicki Salvatore, Joannie Gitlin were named next year's cheer Ladies.

We bade au revoir to Weaver for the summer, and a fond farewell to Miss Goodwin, dean of girls, Miss Faranda, Miss Erickson, Miss Hartin, and Mr. Dow. We left our castle, soon to return as upper classmen — true royalty . . .

Returning to our castle as Ladies and Knights of the junior class, we welcomed Miss Roche, our new dean of girls, and congratulated Jasper for his 25-year letter. Wyrot Pace and Patti Katz made J.C.C., as Fred Epstein made headlines becoming Mayor Pro-tem. Congratulations went to Dick Druckman and Dom DiCicco, our new football captains.

This year our girls gained their chance to play hostesses for the Girls' League Party . . . time certainly had gone quickly. Once again we couldn't really enjoy our Turkey Day Dinner. X-rays were taken and all were called healthy. We kept our eyes on Bob Countryman, John Sullivan, and Ted McBride, as they joined up with John Egan to form what everyone knew would be the Fabulous Five. Prize winners, a multitude . . . Cynthia Price's art scholarship, Lula Giaffo's art award, Marty Huey's National J.A. trip, Ed DuBrow, Hartford's oratorical first prize for the second year, and Sheldon Hoffman's third.

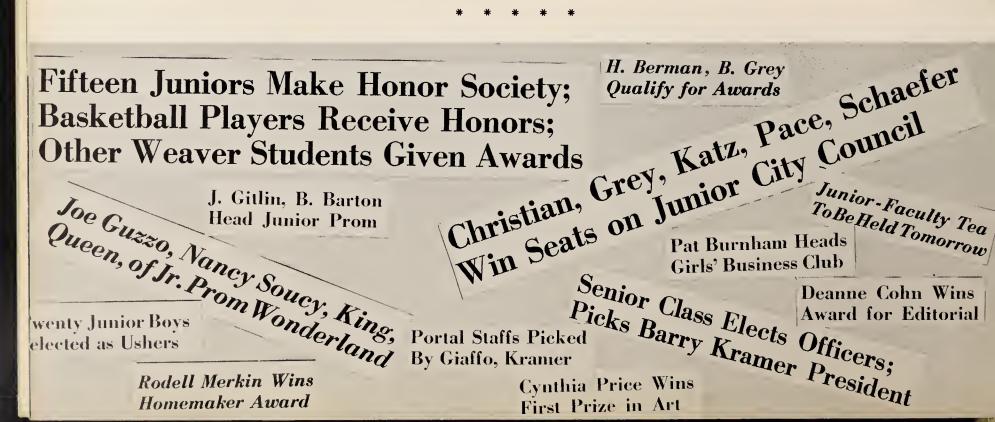

Nancy Soucy and Joe Guzzo reigned as queen and king of our fabulous junior prom, "Alice in Wonderland"; Bruce Barton and Joanne Gitlin were chairmen.

Career Days were a valuable help . . . With the team's victory over Manchester at New Haven, it was "We're going to Boston!" Congratulations went to Johnny Egan for his first M.V.P. award. We promised that we would be back at Boston in our senior year.

Spring: Junior Tea with Marie Tine chairman . . . Track Team third in the State with stars Cox, Wallace, and Holiday . . . Spring Fair.

Many fine accomplishments: Our 15 Juniors taken into Honor Society; Pat Katz elected new Girls' League president; Deanne Cohn appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Lookout; John Egan selected Boys' Club president; Ed DuBrow chosen Student Council president; Bob Grey and Dave Murray named co-captains of Cross-Country. Selected for Boys' and Girls' States were Pat Katz, Marie Tine, Bob Countryman, Dick Druckman, Ed DuBrow, John Egan, Barry Kramer, Joel Weisman, Andy Holiday, and Eugene Stewart . . . Hank Berman won the Wise Travel Scholarship.

In June, we bade a warm farewell to Miss Johnston, Miss Mansfield, Miss Case, and Mr. Parks. As we started vacation, we looked back upon a year which had helped us grow into Noble Knights and Fair Ladies.

September, 1956 . . . full fledged Knights and Ladies, we returned for our royal "best year yet." And it was!

With our castle opening its doors to the largest number of students in ten years, twelve teachers joined the faculty. Our senior activities and responsibilities were ahead.

Chairman Bob Grey organized Honor Studies . . . Bob, Elaine Katz, Wyrot Pace, and Dan Schaefer were chosen for J.C.C., with Wyrot Mayor Pro-tem . . . Sandy Goldstein elected Band president . . .

Our sparkling class rings came, and we displayed them proudly! "Green and White" was sung at the unique indoor Rally-Dance, planned by Joel Weisman and Roberta Shuler . . . And it helped! Our "best year yet" was happening — we beat HPHS on Turkey Day!

All of us posed for Portal pictures, the college bound (and their parents) attended helpful meetings; seventeen top seniors took the Merit qualifying tests . . . oh, those sore arms as we got our Polio shots!

I Speak for Democracy Contest won by Sandy Barson . . . twenty-six of us admitted to Honor Society . . . Arlene Missan reigned as Queen of the "Crystal Ball," and her attendants were Freddy Bonazelli, Deanne Cohn, Lois Lavenberg, Angela Randazzo, Jeanne Szarek, and Marie Tine. Cathy Godbout was chairman of the wonderful affair.

Busy Beavers: Our little smiling friend appeared in every room — Deanne Cohn's Student-Teacher committee had him say, "It's Right to be Polite" . . . Hank Berman and Bob Grey became Merit Finalists, Larry Youell and Deanne Cohn, runners-up . . . Martin Huey, new Honor Society head, was awarded the Bausch Lomb Medal; Lula Giaffo won the DAR award; Rodell Merkin was our Homemaker of Tomorrow.

"Varieties of 1957," with our talented classmates, featured MC Vicki Salvatore, and chairman Steve Weitzman, aided by Sara Zampaglione . . . Clothes made the man, as seniors dressed up for Ivy League Day . . . Sheldon Hoffman won Legion Oratorical Contest . . . And we elected our class officers — President Barry Kramer heading the slate . . . FPA'ers went to U.N. in New York, then to Model Assembly at Hillyer . . . How many hours for those College Boards and Chem charts!

We knew it was the best year yet! The Fabulous Five became undefeated District Champs, State Champs, NEW ENGLAND CHAMPS! True champs all the way and Oh, those games! We were thrilled to see Governor Ribicoff at Weaver to give John Egan his All-American Award.

Deanne Cohn was named class valedictorian and Hank Berman salutatorian, and seniors began work on class essays.

Then, all at once, senior activities were upon us — never to be forgotten memories from the Senior Banquet, Class Night, the Senior Reception. And at last Knights and Ladies said a tearful, proud, fond farewell to our castle, Weaver High School, for it was Graduation Day.

Then heat slowly and . . .
